

VIRTUAL LEADERSHIP TRAINING SERIES

The South Carolina Fire Academy presents a free virtual workshop centered around fire service leadership training. This live, instructor-led workshop will be offered on a virtual platform. For your convenience, the event will also be recorded and posted for later viewing.

Forged In Fire: Military Leadership to Emergency Services

Military leadership is defined as the process of influencing others to accomplish the mission by providing purpose, direction, and motivation. The goal is to apply similar methodology to fire, police, and EMS agencies to create successful teams.

During this workshop, students will bridge the gap from military leadership to emergency service leadership with lessons learned and proven "battle" tactics.

About the Speaker

Thomas Tardo combines his military and fire service training on a daily basis. He is currently assigned to Greenville City Fire Department Rescue Co 4. He is also a training officer for Tyger River Fire Department. He served his country as a Section Leader and HQ Platoon Sergeant in 2/508th Parachute Infantry Regiment, 82nd Airborne Division. This experience prepared him for leadership in emergency services. With two combat deployments to Afghanistan, he held an additional duty as FOB Lightning Fire Chief where he stood up the fire brigade and was an United States adviser for the 203rd Afghan Corps.
