

Terrorism Trends & Tactics Workshop

A free seven-hour workshop on terrorist trends and tactics is being offered by the South Carolina Fire Academy in collaboration with the United States Secret Service-Critical Protective Analysis Group. Workshop discussions will focus on:

Pre-operation surveillance
Penetrating perimeter security
Improvised explosive devices
Vehicle-borne improvised explosive devices
Diversionary/secondary attacks

Motorcade attacks
Coordinated attacks
Domestic terrorism
Homegrown violent extremists
Chemical/biological attacks

Registration Information

Date: Tuesday, Dec. 7, 2021
Time: 9 a.m. – 4 p.m.
Location: SC Fire Academy, Denny Auditorium
141 Monticello Trail
Columbia, SC 29203

Registration: 7220-22-001 <https://fire.llr.sc.gov/Portal/Registration/registration.aspx?crsidnt=73480>

Target Audience: SC fire, police, EMS, and dispatch personnel

About the Presenters

The Critical Protective Analysis Group, a subcomponent of the Protective Intelligence Division's Foreign Assessment Branch, has the mission of reviewing, evaluating, and disseminating intelligence regarding significant incidents and attacks by terrorist groups or individuals, including weapons, tactics, concealment methods, pre-operational planning, surveillance techniques, and evolving trends and technology.

Questions? Contact Amy Williamson